1. IMPORTANT DATES

We hope you had a good break, got lots of rest, and are ready to come back and finish the year on a strong note! As we begin the new semester it will be important for you to keep the following dates and messages in mind:

- Add/Drop WITHOUT getting “W”: January 16 – January 22
- Last day to Add courses: January 23
- Dropping courses WITH a “W”: January 23 – March 26
- For a complete listing of all of this semester’s important dates visit <http://registrar.rutgers.edu/NW/NWINDEX.HTM> and click on “Calendars and Exam Schedules” on the left-hand navigation bar.

2. PROVISION FOR DROPPING FIRST TERM’S GRADES

Students that completed their 56th degree credit during the fall 2006 academic term may be able to take advantage of a special provision that allows undergraduates at Rutgers-Newark to omit all grades earned in their first term at the university from the calculation of their cumulative grade point averages.

Should you be able to take advantage of this provision and choose to do so, the courses and the grades for the courses would remain on your transcript. The grades simply no longer would be included in the determination of your cumulative GPA. If you are interested in finding out if you are eligible then please visit (http://catalogs.rutgers.edu/generated/nwk-ug_0608/pg23602.html) for a full statement of the policy and the criterion for eligibility. Note: If you are eligible to take advantage of this provision, you must – absolutely must – deliver your written formal request to the Registrars Office by Tuesday, January 30, 2007. This is your only chance to do this, there are no extensions granted ever. Once this option is exercised then all arrangements are final and irrevocable.

3. 27TH ANNUAL MARION THOMPSON WRIGHT LECTURE SERIES

One of New Jersey's oldest and most highly esteemed Black History Month events, the Marion Thompson Wright Lecture Series, will mark its 27th anniversary by acknowledging the centrality of memory in understanding the complexity of African American life after the Civil War, the role of memory in societies on the African continent and those in the Americas, the influence of memory on the construction of the black past, commemoration, identity, and the use of memory in contemporary scholarship on the Black Atlantic. David Blight, professor of American History and director of the Gilder Lehrman Center for the Study of Slavery, Resistance, and Abolitionism at Yale University, will present the keynote Marion Thompson Wright Lecture. Professor Blight is the nation’s foremost historian on memory and its intersection with African American historical narratives. This event is open to everyone and all HC students are encouraged to attend. The series will take place on Saturday February 17th from 9:30 am – 3:30 pm in the Paul Robeson Campus Center. For a full schedule of speakers and topics, please visit <http://65.36.189.169/iecme/?section=events&fuse=main&id=55>. We hope to see you there.

4. NIGHT OF KHMER ROUGE EXHIBIT

On January 16th Robeson Gallery will begin the exhibit, “Night of the Khmer Rouge: Genocide and Justice in Cambodia. This exhibit examines photographic documents from 'the killing fields' of the Khmer Rouge and the infamous Tuol Sleng prison. The Rumble Room features a series of films and documentaries, including The Flute Player, Bophana: A Cambodian Tragedy, Samsara, and S-21: The Khmer Rouge Killing Machine. The exhibition is organized by Alexander Hinton and Jorge Daniel Veneciano in partnership with the Documentation Center of Cambodia. From 5-6 pm on January 31st in Robeson’s Multi-purpose room there will be a screening and discussion of the film “Behind the Walls of S-21: Oral Histories from Tuol Sleng Prison” (Doug Kass, producer-director and Wynne Cougill, editor). The screening will be followed by an Exhibition reception from 6 - 8 pm in the Robeson Gallery. We hope to see you there.

5. SPRING 2007 RESEARCH ASSISTANT POSITION

A faculty member in the School of Public Affairs and Administration is seeking a Research Assistant for the spring 2007 semester. Students would be assisting in the development of a new special topics course dealing with the intersection of public affairs and diversity. Students interested in issues such as public policy, diversity, education, political science and numerous other fields in the humanities and social sciences will find this work interesting and fulfilling. This is also an excellent opportunity for students who think they might be applying for graduate study after graduation. Furthermore, an opportunity such as this is an excellent resume builder and is becoming increasingly important for graduate school admissions. Note, this Research Assistantship is for academic credit and can be used to fulfill one-half of your Honors College Special Topics Requirement. If you are interested in applying for this position then please contact Seth Mann at smann@rutgers.edu. Please be sure to copy Dr. John Gunkel at jgunkel@newark.rutgers.edu.

6. SPRING 2007 HONORS COLLEGE SEMINAR NOW AVAILABLE

If you are a sophomore, junior or senior interested in taking an Honors College Seminar that will provide you with valuable insights that are applicable to any interest, major or career objective then please continue reading. By 2030, current “minorities” will be the majority of the U.S. population, and their combined buying power is expected to be over $4 trillion dollars – a sum that has significant economic, social, and marketing implications for the country. Our new course, “Diverse Consumers” explores how people are influenced by the cultural habits of groups to which they belong, and examines how different subgroups have unique patterns of preferences, customs, and values that determine not only what they will buy, but also how they will live. The readings and assignments are designed to build your capacity to understand consumers in different subgroups by experiencing the relationship between diversity and consumption in the world and the media. The rationale for the course is that the United States is a consumer society in which the purchase of goods, services, ideas, activities, and experiences influences political, social, and economic life. In other words, you will be able to apply what you learn in this class to everything you do or intend to do! And, you’ll fulfill one-half of your Honors College Special Topics Requirement in the process! For more information on this course or for instructions on how to register please contact Seth Mann at smann@rutgers.edu.

7. PAID INTERNSHIPS! SPRING AND SUMMER OPPS IN BANKING & BUSINESS

Valley National Bank is currently accepting internship applications from enthusiastic sophomores, juniors or seniors with an interest in management, accounting, human resources and/or the banking industry in general. As an intern you’ll get the rare chance to work closely with upper management of a huge bank and receive quality mentorship rich with personal attention – the four HC students who have interned there have all had an excellent experience. Valley National has assets of more than $12 billion and operates 166 branches in 109 communities located throughout NJ and NY. This internship will provide an extremely valuable experience that could help students build their resumes and acquire skills that will prove essential for their future careers. And they pay nicely! Applicants should have excellent communication skills, knowledge of MS Office Suite, and good organizational skills. If you are interested in applying then please contact Seth Mann at smann@rutgers.edu as soon as possible. Successful completion of this internship will fulfill the Honors College Special Topics Requirement.

8. PAID SUMMER LAW INTERNSHIP AVAILABLE

A reputable law firm in NJ is currently accepting applications for 12 week paid summer internships. This intern program is an excellent learning opportunity for young people who are seriously considering a career in the field of law:

- You will work to support a variety of legal matters and be supervised by an elite team of paralegals.
- You create relationships within a caring group of lawyers and paralegals, many of whom will be able to provide invaluable career advice.
- You will attend a series of seminars and workshops that will teach you about different roles and practice areas within our firm.
- By the end of the summer you will have an understanding of how a law firm works. This experience can be very helpful in making decisions about your career.

The firm mostly does Pharmaceutical and Bankruptcy law, but has divisions of Personal Injury, Land Use, Intellectual Property, and general corporate law. Interested students should contact Seth Mann at smann@rutgers.edu immediately. We hope to hear from you soon.

9. VOLUNTEER & TUTORING OPPORTUNITY AVAILABLE IN NEWARK

YouthBuild USA, a national non-profit organization with an office operating right near campus, conducts GED and education training for inner-city youth. The mission of YouthBuild USA is to unleash the intelligence and positive energy of low-income youth to rebuild their communities and their lives. YouthBuild USA seeks to join with others like you to help all people in all communities to fulfill their own potential and contribute to the well-being of others. They are seeking tutors to work 45 minute blocks of time starting in February of 2007. Tutoring schedules are flexible, the location is convenient and the work is very fulfilling. If you are interested in this opportunity then please contact Seth Mann at jgunkel@newark.rutgers.edu.

10. YOUNG LEADERS SUMMIT

Young leaders wishing to make a difference in the world are invited to apply to the Young Global Leaders Summit on Realizing the Goal of Universal Primary Education on February 10 and 11 at John Hopkins SAIS in Washington, D.C. The Summit, which is co-hosted by Americans for Informed Democracy, Student Movement for Real Change, and Global Rights, will examine how young people can be meaningfully involved in keeping the promise made by the international community to ensure universal primary education by 2015. At the Summit, students will hear from renowned experts and then express their own views on how the international community can meet this important challenge. Students will also have an opportunity to exchange ideas with Global Rights' Amplifying Youth Voices (AYV) Fellows, a diverse group of young leaders from some of the most marginalized ethnic communities around the world. The AYV program seeks to mobilize young leaders from minority groups to take action to improve educational opportunities in their communities. For more information and to access the application please visit: WWW.AIDEMOCRACY.ORG/UNIVERSAL.CFM. If you decide to apply then please contact Seth Mann at smann@rutgers.edu.

11. SUMMER INTERNSHIPS ON ENVIRONMENTAL ISSUES

Resources for the Future (RFF) is currently accepting applications for summer 2007 paid internships. RFF is an independent non-profit organization, located in Washington, D.C., specializing in research, policy analysis and public education on environmental, energy and natural resource issues. Each intern can expect to work with one or more RFF researchers on a variety of ongoing projects or assist in the development of entirely new areas of research and policy analysis. RFF's three research divisions are Energy and Natural Resources (ENR), Quality of the Environment (QE), and Risk, Resource, and Environmental Management (RREM). All three divisions seek highly motivated candidates in the social and natural sciences. Candidates for all divisions should have outstanding policy analysis, strong writing skills, and an interest in complex environmental policy problems amenable to interdisciplinary analysis. The ability to work without supervision in a careful and conscientious manner is essential. If you would like to learn more about this great opportunity then please contact Seth Mann at smann@rutgers.edu.

12. MTV INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

MTV Networks is now accepting internship applications for the spring and summer semesters. These opportunities are available to all sophomores, juniors and seniors who are looking for a rich and rewarding experience at one of the world's most successful networks. Applicants should be available at least 2 days p/week. If you are interested in any of the opportunities listed on their website (<https://jobhuntweb.viacom.com/jobhunt/main/jobhome.asp>) then please contact Seth Mann (smann@rutgers.edu) as soon as possible. This is a great chance to work at MTV in NYC but you must act soon to insure your best chance at obtaining a position.
