1. BLACK HISTORY MONTH CONTINUES

Black history month is in full swing at Rutgers-Newark with new and exciting events every week. For a full schedule please go the Robeson Campus Center website at <http://robeson.rutgers.edu/>, hover over "Student Life" and click on "Student Life Calendar." Or just visit the direct link at http://robeson.rutgers.edu/student_life_brochure.html.

2. PAID TUTORING OPPORTUNITIES AND ST. BENEDICT'S ACADEMY

The Honors College is proud to announce that our Independence Community Foundation grant sponsored tutoring program at St. Benedict's Academy (located only three blocks from campus) will be continued this year. Honors College tutors will help high school freshman and juniors make the transition to the school's college preparatory curriculum. There are several scheduling arrangements available from 8:30 AM to 2:30 PM (periods 1-4). We ask that interested students be able to commit to at least 1 regular period every week (for instance, every Wednesday, period 2). Of course students can tutor more often if they'd like and are available. Tutors will be paid $10 p/hour provided that they follow the proper sign-in procedures at the site. If you are looking to make a difference in students' lives then please contact Nicholas Bancks at nbancks@sbp.org or 973.792.5788 as soon as possible. If you use email then please provide the following information and be sure to copy (cc) smann@rutgers.edu.

-Full Name

-email address you check most often

-phone number

-subject preferences, if any (identify what you'd like to tutor and/or what you don't want to tutor)

-Your availability

Students may start tutoring immediately. We hope you will take advantage of this great opportunity.

Take care and I hope to hear from you soon.

3. ARESTY RESEARCH CENTER FOR UNDERGRADUATES

The Aresty Research Center for Undergraduates (<http://aresty.rutgers.edu/symposium.htm>) is pleased to announce the third annual university-wide Undergraduate Research Symposium, to be held on April 20, 2007. The ARC Undergraduate Research Symposium is a chance for undergraduates to present a paper or poster on their findings to an audience of faculty from across the disciplines, peers, high school students, friends, family, and recruiters from the private sector. Rutgers students not yet involved in research will find that attending the symposium is a great way to learn about the broad range of research opportunities for undergraduates. We invite research projects from all disciplines and encourage all students currently working on research projects to submit original, scholarly creative work for the symposium. Students must be working under the guidance of a faculty mentor who can speak to the quality of the research; this includes students working on faculty research as well as students working on their own research under the supervision of faculty. For Newark students, the deadline for abstract submissions is Friday, March 2nd - Only electronic submissions (to aresty@rci.rutgers.edu) will be accepted. If you have any questions about creating a abstract then please contact your faculty advisor or Dr. John Gunkel at jgunkel@newark.rutgers.edu.

4. KPMG: FUTURE DIVERSITY LEADERS PROGRAM

I would like to bring the following opportunity to your attention. The accounting firm, KPMG LLP (KPMG) is seeking high-performing freshman and sophomore students who have demonstrated and continue to demonstrate a commitment to diversity and are interested in future opportunities at KPMG through participation in their exciting Future Diversity Leaders Program (FDL). FDL identifies 50 students annually to participate in a three to four year scholarship program that focuses on leadership. This opportunity provides the chance to attend a major conference, obtain scholarship support and be placed in an internship at KPMG. Interested students should be enrolled in or have intentions of being enrolled in the our business school, with the expectation that they will choose an accounting, finance, IT or other business major that would align with KPMG's multiple practices and disciplines. If you are interested in this opportunity then please contact Seth Mann at smann@rutgers.edu for further information.

5. PUBLIC POLICY AND INT'L AFFAIRS (PPIA) FELLOWSHIPS

The Public Policy & International Affairs (PPIA) Fellowship Program is accepting applications for summer of 2007. The PPIA Fellowship Program is designed to prepare college juniors or rising college seniors, especially from diverse communities, for graduate study in public policy, public administration and international affairs. Accepted students will attend a Junior Summer Institute (JSI) at one of their five locations for 7-weeks from June through August. The JSI curriculum is designed to improve students' analytic and communication skills through three areas of study - economics, statistics, and policy analysis/writing. The program is fully funded including cost of tuition, housing, meals, and transportation, plus $1,000+ stipend. Applicants must be in their junior year of undergraduate study and demonstrate a strong interest in pursuing a graduate degree and career in public service.

Application deadline is March 1st (postmarked). For more information and to apply, please visit their web site: <http://www.ppiaprogram.org/app/>. To submit inquiries, please click on this link: <http://www.ppiaprogram.org/contact/inquiry.php> or call Addie Rasavong at 202-296-0130 ext. 206. If you need any assistance with your application or are accepted to program then please contact Seth Mann at smann@rutgers.edu.

6. MEMORY AND LEARNING RESEARCH

The Learning and Memory Research Lab at the Rutgers-Newark Center for Neuroscience, seeks to hire a part-time programmer to develop computer software for running psychological studies on computers which will be used as part of our studies of memory loss in brain damaged patients and in related brain imaging studies. Applicant must have experience and facility with Object-oriented programming AND Apple Mac Operating Systems. Salary to be negotiated based on experience. Should be able to start ASAP. Hours flexible but probably 15 to 20 hours total a week. Most of the work can be done from home. If qualified, and interested, please email Dr. Mark Gluck at gluck@pavlov.rutgers.edu. Please include (1) a cover letter indicating your past programming experience and availability and qualifications regarding the criteria listed above, along with other information about your current status, GPA (if in school), long-term career goals, and how long you will be in the Newark area and (2) also a CV/resume.

7. HISPANIC SCHOLARSHIP FUND CITIBANK FELLOWS PROGRAM

The nation's leading organization supporting Hispanic higher education, the Hispanic Scholarship Fund (HSF) is pleased to announce the opening of the HSF/Citigroup Fellows Program. The HSF/Citigroup Fellows Award is a two-year award totaling $10,000. HSF/Citigroup Fellows will also be paired with a Citigroup employee who will serve as a professional mentor and offer career guidance. HSF/Citigroup Fellows will be invited to attend a professional development conference in the fall of both their junior and senior years. The conferences are fully funded by the Citigroup Foundation and will take place in different locations throughout the United States. If you are interested applying then please contact Seth Mann at smann@rutgers.edu and also be sure to visit <http://www.hsf.net/scholarship/programs/citigroup.php>. It will be important to get started on this process sooner rather than later so be sure to contact us today!

8. UNITED NATIONS ASSOCIATION INTERNSHIP

United Nations Association of the USA is currently accepting intern applications for summer 06. The deadline for summer applications is March 15 but the earlier they receive them the better. For an application and a full description of their programs visit United Nations Association website, pass over "Education", pass over "Program," and then select "internships." If you are interested in working with grassroots outreach, high-level policy studies and providing information and educational materials for Congress, the executive branch, the corporate community, NGOs, the general public and the media then please begin following the application procedures as soon as possible. I also encourage you to set up an appointment to come see Seth Mann as soon as possible to review draft responses and resume drafts.

9. NY WOMEN IN FILM & TELEVISION INTERNSHIPS

Internships are available at New York Women in Film & Television, the preeminent entertainment industry association for women in New York City. Dedicated to helping women reach the highest levels of achievement in film, television and new media, and promoting equity for women in these industries, NYWIFT produces over fifty innovative programs and special events each year. NYWIFT's 1500 members are part of a network of forty international women in film organizations, representing more than 10,000 members worldwide. As an intern, program participant work in the NYWIFT office for a total of 45 days. Interns' work schedule can be personalized to accommodate their schedule, however they must work a minimum of one full day per week. Interns update media list in computer database, write press releases, help publicize events and programs, work on updating website, proofreading and editing. If you are interested in learning more about this opportunity then please contact Seth Mann at smann@rutgers.edu.

10. FINANCIAL AID WORKSHOPS AVAILABLE

The priority filing deadline for your 2007-2008 FAFSA application is March 15, 2006. Students who currently are receiving a scholarship from the Honors College that has a need-based component (which is most of them) or who even wish to be considered for one for the next academic year should complete and submit the FAFSA form as soon as possible. While completing and filing the form will not guarantee you any additional funding for the coming academic year, it will make it possible for you to receive full consideration for any additional funding that may become available. The Financial Aid Office is holding several workshops to help you through the process and answer your questions about FAFSA funding. The workshops will take place on the following dates:

- Mondays Free Period (11:30 – 12:50) – February 26 & March 5, 12
- Wednesdays Free Period (2:30 – 3:50) – February 28 & March 7, 14

The workshops will take place in Blumenthal Hall, Room 302. These are great opportunities to have your questioned answered and to insure that you have a clear understanding of the entire federal student aid application process.

11. PAUL ROBESON GALLERY EXHIBITION

Paul Robeson Gallery is proud to present Imago – The Drama of Self-Portraiture in Recent Photography March 1 – April 12, 2007. Imago explores the ephemerality of self and the will to re imagine it, as seen in the work of nine international artists: Renée Cox, Wojciech Gilewicz, Orlan, Annu Palakunnathu Matthew, Jake Rowland, Millee Tibb, Martin C. de Waal and Iké Udé.

The show is organized by Jorge Daniel Veneciano and Lisa Hasselbrook. Note, there will be a formal reception on Tuesday, March 20, from 5 – 8 pm which everyone is welcome to. Admission to Paul Robeson Gallery is free and open to the public. For more information: www.andromeda.rutgers.edu/artgallery.

12. MODEL UN MEETING & SPEAKER PRESENTATION
